

PARTING MOMENTS BEFORE SUMMER

NUMBER ONE – TOO OLD TO FIX

Our old Microwave door wouldn't open...
the broken handle is no longer made...
the dealer said "It's too old to fix..."

It bugs me to send something to the dump...
it has worked fine for 25 years...
I ordered a new one anyway.

I just had my 92nd birthday annual physical
so "too old to fix" words hung in my mind
as physical therapy was added to my prescriptions.

My inner voice said "At my age?"
my other voice answered...
"So you're ready for the dump?"

Some say they are too old for glasses or hearing aids...
100% of my life is between now and my last breath...
why not do whatever is needed to fix it?

Max studied the old microwave a few minutes...
went to my shop for an hour...
came back with a hand-crafted oak handle....
the new microwave was taken back to the dealer.

Every time I see that oak handle
on the microwave declared too old to fix
it makes me smile inside.

For the Moment...
